Teachers Advised to Consecrate Themselves to the Work.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

EMORY, VA., July 14.—A very enthusiastic meeting for the purpose of setting forth the aims and purposes of two Virginia Co-operative Commission. closed here's in College Chapel yesterday. Nearly a hundred teachers were present, hesides a large crowd from the surrounding community.

Dr. R. G. Waterhouse, a member of the commission, acting as chairman, opened the meeting with a short speech, setting forth the conditions of the rural schools in this State. Superintendent W. J. Edmondson followed with an interesting talk on "Nine Months' School for the Child." He strongly advocated consolidation and local taxation.

Dr. Joseph W. Southall was next on programme, and made himself strongly felt by impressing on the teachers the great responsibility intrusted to them. He also discussed the rural school question, and stated that consolidation, transportation and better pay for the teachers was the solution to the problem. Dr. Southall spoke in complimentary terms of the progress made in the rural schools of Washington county, and of the progressive work being done in the normal, now in session here.

FRIEE LIBRARIES.

Miss Lulie Kolley, of Richmond, Va., closed the programme by reading a well written paper on "The Value of Free Libraries."

Miss Lulie Kolley, of Richmond, Va., closed the programme by reading a well written paper on "The Value of Free Libraries."

Miss Miss Bessie Warren, of Emory, added much to the pleasure of the evening with their music. Each number was creditably rendered and theroughly appreciated by all.

The programme was resumed yesterday merning with an attentive and well filled house. Professor Smith, of Abingdon, Va., made the opening speech with great carnestness. He spoke of the importance of having a citizens' association in each county and city for the betterment of public education.

Miss Emeis, of the Lockport City Schools, New York, outlined the work of craniting and maintaining schools for the depending and dependent classes.

THOROUGH DISCOURSE

to the rural schools.

2. The discipline value of industrial training.
3. Its efficiency in culture and reform.

4. Its value in increasing the earning power of the individual.

Professor Russell, superintendent of Bristol City Schools, closed the programme with a strong discussion and plea for a well trained teacher in every school. He showed conclusively that the teacher must be employed with reference to the greatest benefit of the child, and to guard against the employment of cheap teachers. He exhorted the teacher to a total consecration of self to service.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

CHATHAM, VA., July 14.—The oil warehouse, containing four thousand gallons of oil, stable and shed of T. J. Patterson, wholesale grocer, were burned to-day.
The fire originated from sparks from a passing train, and when discovered was beyond control and threatened several surrounding buildings, which were saved by the hard work of a large bucket brigade. Loss estimated at fifteen hundred dollars, without insurance. A grown son of the proprietor was prostrated by the heat while fighting the flames.

Post C Has Enthusiastic Meeting Bearing on This Subject. Other Petersburg News.

PETERSBURG, VA., July 14.-Mr. H. W. Anderson, of Richmond, counsel for he Goulds in the Fisher-Gould case, this norning before Judge Mullen, resumed is argument on the defendates' denurrer. On this feature Mr. Anderson's peech was one of a strictly legal character, dealing carefully with law points, and citing from a large number of authorities as to other similar cases, Afine, he made an elaborate explanation of the adjustment agreement and discussed fully and clearly the floating debt and general financial condition of the properties of the Virginia Passenger - d Tower Company at the time of their acquisition by the Goulds in December 1902. He maintained that the application of the, plaintiffs for a receiver on the ground that his clients had mismanaged the property and wrongfully increased its debt, was utterly without foundation in fact. On the contrary, he stated that the books of the company would show that during the year 1908, notwithstanding the losses caused by the strike, and most liberal expenditures for the improvement of the property, the company's floating debt was increased only to the comparatively small extent of $50,000. He asserted that Mr. Gould and Miss Heien W. Gould had furnished more than $800,000 to the Virginia Passenger and Power on notes of the company in adequately secured by Class C bonds. On this class of bonds, interest had always been regularly paid to other holders, but hone had ever been paid to his clients or claimed by them. Cower Company at the time of their ac-

PROPERTY AND FINANCES IMPROPERTY AND FINANCES IMPROPERTY AND FINANCES IMMr. Anderson maintained that from December 31, 1922, when the Goulds assumed control of the property, to December 31, 1932, in spite of the handicaps previously referred to, the property and finances of the Virginia Passenger and Fower Company had been greatly improved, which, he said, could be mathematically proved by the books of the corporation. He confined himself closely to the record, but at one point asserted that the record was defective, which deficiency he would supply if allowed by the court. Judge Mullen replied that he would permit the addition to the record if consented to by the attorneys for the plaintiffs. After some discussion, Mr. R. B. Davis, of counsel for the plaintiffs. After some discussion, Mr. Anderson. As this involved the probability of indefinite delay, the court prohibited the proposed addition to the record. Shortly before the morning adjournment, Mr. Anderson began to discuss the matter of the disposition of the bonds of the company, which he record misuse of any bonds or other assets of the Virginia Passenger and Power Company. the appointment of a receiver as being without reason in law or facts, and urged the court to protect this great property, which was doing so much for this section of Virginia by keeping it in the hands of the present owners.

Mr. Anderson was followed by Mr. F.
W. Christian, of counsel for the Virginia Passenger and Power Company, Mr. Christian attacked the bill of the plaintiffs, and argued that neither Fisher nor any other party to the bill had any grounds upon which to ask for a receiver.
He maintained that his client had committed no act that could justify the court in furning over this property to a receiver. He will continue his speech tomorrow. Mr. R. B. Davis, of counsel for the plaintiffs, will close the case.

Messrs, R. W. Spillman, chairman of the State Railroad Committee of T. P. A.; H. F. Smith, chairman of State Membership Committee, and of the same committee of the Richmond Post: Paul Heindl, H. L. Lorraine, Thomas Poindexter and H. Ellis. The very important matter of interchangeable mileage was fully discussed, and Messrs. Brockett and Spillman gave a mest encouraging report of the progress of the association's contention with the railroads for a uniform and reasonable mileage rate for commercial travelers throughout the territory of the Southeastern Association of Railroad and Steamboat Lines. Mr. Spillman stated the interesting fact that it was through the efforts of the T. P. A. that the interstate commerce law was so mended as to allow interchangeable mileage.

THE ORPHANAGE.

Rev. J. T. Mastin, superintendent of the Virginia Conference Orphanage, Richmond, also delivered an interesting address on that work when the report was under consideration.

Messrs W. H. Shepherd, of South Boston; Frank Taibott, of Mt. Vernon Church, Danville; N. P. Angle, of Rocky Mount, and W. S. Saylor, of Cabell Street Church, Danville, were elected as lay delegates to the annual conference, which meets next November in Lynchburg.

Bassett's Church, on Smith's River charge, in Henry county, was chosen as the place for holding the district conference next year.

The conference adjourned this afternoon at 4 o'clock, and was hitogether a most harmonious and enjoyable meeting.

As many of the townspeople could not hear Bishop Wilson yesterday morning, he kindly consented to remain over and preach again to-night, and he was greeted by a large congregation, who were thrilled by his almost matchless logic and eloquence. His two sermons here this week are among the ablest ever delivered in the town.

ANTI-BALOON LEAGUEL The county Anti-Saloon League will hold its meeting here to-morow, and some of the preachers will stay over to attend same and hear Rev W. H. Atwill speak on "The Redemption of Danville from the Saloon Evil."
